About Us

Katha Pachisi – the story bank is a storytelling training & consulting company. We help organizations, corporate professionals, educators, young minds & aspiring storytellers to learn and leverage the power of storytelling at workplace.

Storytelling is an art, a skill & a powerful tool which empowers to communicate your ideas, your vision & your brand to establish a connect with your employees & customers. In these tough times communication by leaders has become a challenge but critical for the organizations both within and outside.

Trainings based on Storytelling Methodology

Trainings when delivered through storytelling method becomes immensely powerful. Stories are universal as it provides a timeless link to our culture & values. The shortest distance from head to heart is a story, as audience visualizes different scenarios through a story.

Storytelling plays a pivotal role in communicating information & ideas with ease, where people comprehend the shared information in a relatable manner. Storytelling method engages the audience and is very effective to impart diverse training topics.
